Letter from the Editors

As you move on in life we hope you look back fondly on your days at Massachusetts Maritime: all those dreaded monday mornings where rolling out of bed to go to MOFO just didn't seem possible; the joy and delicious aroma that filled the campus around noon on chicken patty tuesday, and tuesday nights as a sophomore sitting in a crowded Admiral's Hall listening to Commander Page speak about what it is to be a leader. The sweet taste of freedom when you're no longer a freshman and can go out on "crazy sophomore lib night" only to be back in uniform at 2255 for inspections in the Fantail.

As an upper classman, wednesday equals "Almost Friday". Then Thursday also known as, Friday Eve leads into glorious Friday morning shortfo and freedom for the weekend!

Remember to always hold dear the lessons learned, not only in the classroom, but through your friendships and relationships with peers. Hold close the memories of Youngie Orientation, Sir/Ma'am Sandwiches, Viking Bath, Halloween MOFO, Midnight Breakfast during finals, 9 and 10's room inspections, and all those late night's cleaning for Admirals. As the saying goes, "Massachusetts Maritime is a hard place to be, but a great place to be from." Class of 2013, Congrats on making it to the other side.

Best regards,
"The Muster" Yearbook Staff

Congratulations on a job well done! I am very proud of you and your many accomplishments - the academic, the athletic, the regimental and the personal. Years ago you made the difficult and courageous decision to buck peer pressure and chose a college that is unlike what 99% of people in your age group would call "normal". But here at Massachusetts Maritime, we call those other colleges "ordinary" and, as a graduate of MMA, you have earned the title of "extra-ordinary". Good job.

Of course, nothing this valuable ever comes easy. You withstood the rigors of Orientation and then a freshman year that lasted from mid August until late June with but a few breaks in the crushing schedule.

Regardless of your major, you all took Calculus, Chemistry and Physics, preceded by a sea term and followed by a litany of professional courses capped with either additional sea terms or internships/co-ops that filled your summers and winters, culminating in over 150 academic credits - the equivalent of 5 years of work jammed into four years at MMA.

You attended MMA during The Great Recession, one of the worst economic times in our nation's history, and I am sure many of you had families who experienced significant financial difficulty during your time away from home, adding greatly to the stress and turmoil of your tenure here. Even the seemingly trivial problems of having it rain during almost all of your outside events just seemed to make you grow stronger and tougher than your counterparts at those "ordinary colleges".

The result, of course, is that you have earned a future that holds great promise; a future that has employers coming here first to fill their roles with high quality employees; a future that taps into your many skills and results in high value occupations that bring great value to our economy and our nation.

My own father has a saying that is a favorite of mine: "The toughest steel goes through the hottest fires". You, the members of the Class of 2013 certainly fit that phrase. Congratulations and best wishes for a great life after MMA!

Best Regards,
Richard Gurnon
President MMA
Rear Admiral, USMS

STUDENT GOVERNM

The Student Government Association, led by the class of 2013 this year, main mission was to advance the life of cadets here at Maritime. We could never have accomplished so much in regards to bettering cadets life's without the awesome support of our Advisor, Commandant and Deputy, Admiral and of course to the Man upstairs. But more importantly, A personal thanks to the 1,358 cadets living at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy, may they continue to dream, learn, and become more.

The SGA started off the year by renovating the deserted Hausepipe into the Academy's first ever Arcade, I think it was the first time I saw a cadet smile on campus and use the room since the banning of alcohol back in 2006. We continued with the installment of brand new 60" TV's aboard the ship, in the Fantail, and in the Bilge as well as a Billiard Table, Air Hockey Table, Couches, & a Table Tennis Table. We were able to start the Academy's first ever Outdoor program, purchasing numerous bikes and Kayaks, as well as subsidizing Sea Term excursions this year, making port time more enjoyable. Most importantly, we expanded the club program here at the Academy by offering low dues and high investments. Currently, 1/4 of the Academy is now involved with a club in some way.

Douglas R. Neal
President
Student Government Association

One of the most impacting actions of the 2013 SGA in my opinion was the creation of the Viking Bath certificate. Every individual who participates now receives recognition for it, officially stamped and signed by the Regimental Commander and Deputy Commandant of Cadets.

Four Years ago I nervously read the infamous words of Mark Twain before entering into the mysteries of Youngie Year:

"Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things that you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover".

The SGA for the year of 2013 worked tirelessly and relentlessly this year for the cadets, traveling into dangerous waters more times than I can count, but we left the Academy in a better place than when we found it. We discovered we are capable of great and wonderful deeds. We are the class of 2013 and have run our race. It is up for the future to pick up our torch and not let the light burn out. Hot Carl Class of 2013.

COMING

October 13th 2012

Past Massachusetts Maritime graduates and current cadets marched onto the field for the opening ceremony of the homecoming football game the Buccaneers verses Fitchburg State. Youngies lined the end zone and even a huge pirate ship adorned with pirates sailed onto the field! At every touchdown, the honor guard fired a cannon shot, youngies did pushups, and the fans in the stands made so much noise it echoed off the T.S. Kennedy. It was an exciting victory for the Buccaneers, for a final score of 56 to 32.

HALLOWEEN

At the Halloween dance for the 4/C and 3/C cadets of Mass Maritime, there was a mess deck full of excitement. Tables were cleared out for the DJ, the dance floor, water pong, and the jousting moon bounce! The costumes were amazing, all night there were different types of contests to win prizes. First place prize of the pie eating contest was 50 dollars, won by 4/C Shane Morton. The winning team of water pong that came in first place also won 50 dollars. Candy was being thrown into the air as everyone danced the night away. The Halloween dance of 2012 will definitely one to remember.

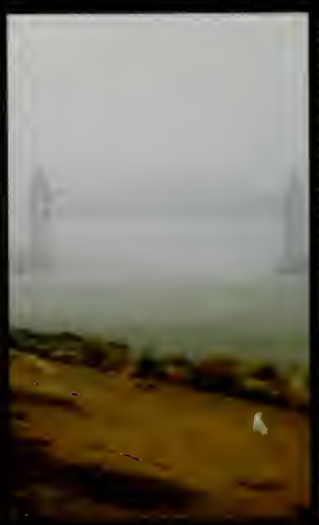
HURRICANES &

Right: Just after Hurricane Sandy, a northeastern storm blew in November 8th 2012 and canceled Thursday morning classes. Roof, and side panels came loose and cadets were advised not to go outside because of falling debris. The dugouts in the softball field were shattered, the wind whistled for two days, and also created a spiraling wind tornado at the door to 4th company.



Center: The T.S. Kennedy fired up its boilers and had over 100 cadet volunteers to help onload for the hurried departure to aid victims of Hurricane Sandy in the NY and NJ area.

Left: 45 MMA crew members and 300 FEMA workers ate a hearty Thanksgiving meal on the T.S. Kennedy while it was anchored in NY

STORMS

T.S. Kennedy activation

Thursday morning November 1st 2012, federal officials ordered the T.S. Kennedy to sail to New York to help with disaster relief after Hurricane Sandy. Our ship acted like a floating hotel providing hot meals, showers, electricity, and a place to sleep for fire, police, FEMA, first responders, power crews and military personnel.

Cadets where put into action immediately to prepare for the T.S. Kennedy's departure. The 61 seniors who lived aboard had to move their things within 24 hours, and where housed in local hotels. On that Saturday, cadet volunteers from every class helped load food, water and supplies from over six trailer trucks. The ship was steam power ready within 24-32 hours of its activation, and departed from Buzzards Bay at high tide on Sunday morning.

The US Maritime Administrator David Matsuda presented Captain Bushy and the members of the Kennedy with the Merchant Marine Medal.Thanks to all the cadets, crew, staff and faculty, the Massachusetts Maritime was able to dedicate efforts for the disaster of Hurricane Sandy.

The Maritime Players presented us with two full hour skits filled with laughter, mystery, and entertainment. Premiering November 1st 2012, the Maritime Players held evening shows where cadets, faculty and family attended. The first play was "The Dumb Waiter" written by Harold Pinter. Starring 2/C Jason Boucher and 4/C Ryan Loughran as British assassins, who together used dry humor, silence and mystery to thrill the audience.

After a short intermission, the evening continued with "The Bald Soprano" written by Eugene Lonesco. Starring 3/C Kyle Appt, 1/C Ronald Boidi, 3/C Dylan Cadman, 3/C Kevin Mandeville, 3/C Danielle Soar, 3/C Sam Smith, and 3/C Jusitin Viera. The fast paced crazy phrases and conversations had the audience laughing out loud.

It is with great honor that I can say congratulations on completing what we started four short years ago.

We truly have had such a unique college experience that only us as cadets understand. From arriving here as "youngies" to becoming first class, we have all changed into the outstanding individuals that are prepared to spread out across the globe.

It was by no means an easy road to travel down as we were faced with countless obstacles in which we tirelessly overcame. We have had incredible triumphs and created unforgettable memories. We have also proven that time after time that when the going gets tough, the tough get going.

From both the regimental and academic rigor, we have all succeeded plentifully. This success will show in the years to come as we spread apart from the Academy. After graduation let's always remain together as the Class of 2013.

For the class that always gets rained on, I wish that nothing but sunny skies lie ahead of us.

Once again congratulations and have a Buccaneer Day!

Thomas Larson

TOM we are so proud of your many accomplishments that you have made a MMA, you've worked hard and have made many great friendships. I'll trade that ride on your tractor you promised me when you were 4 for a cruise on one of your vessels out on the sea.

We love you so much.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Katie

Mike Kastrinelis

Congratulations Mike !!!

As we look back on your past and anticipate your future, we know that your diligence and determination will bring you great success and satisfaction.

You make us all proud in everything that you do!

Love Always,

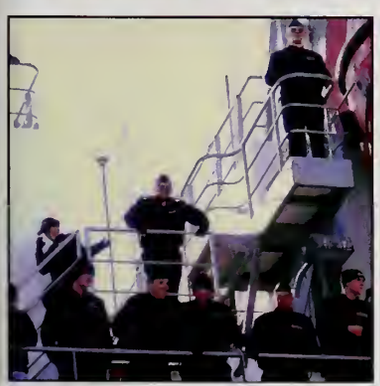
Ronald J. Boidi

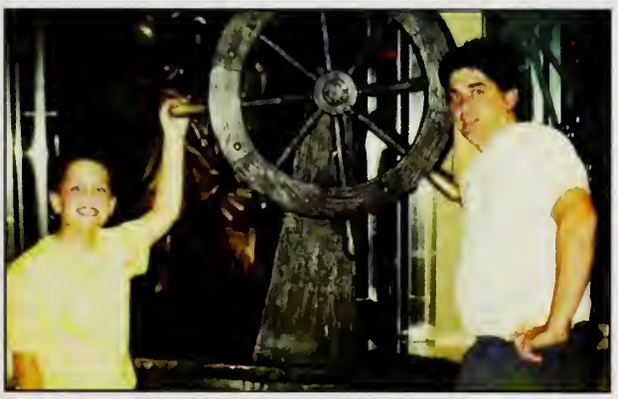
Ronnie: The road here has been long and sometimes arduous. You worked so hard and kept steady even during some difficult times. Dad and I could not have asked for a better son and I mean that most sincerely. You are the best! We are all so very proud of you. Congratulations you deserve nothing but the best.
<3 always Mom, Dad, Kristina & Geena

Francis William Rezendes

My boy is now a man. As you launch your new life may you find fair winds, calm seas, and safe harbor. Always remember how much you are loved, and as you start this new chapter in your life know that we are behind you every step of the way. We are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished.

Love Mom & James





Daniel Peterson

You have come a long, long way in four short years! We are so proud of everything you have accomplished and the fine engineer you have become. Now it's time to live your dreams!

Mom, Day, Sarah & Jenny

Michael Rourke

CONGRATUALTIONS
MIKE!
WELL DONE!
Words cannot express how proud we are of the man you have grown into. It is truly an honor to be your parent.
Luv U

Sean Lawrence Michael Kiely

Sean,
In the blink of an eye you have grown from our amazing little bundle of pride and joy into an ambitious, intelligent, compassionate and confident young man. You have excelled as a scholar and a leader at a World Class Learning Institution, steeped in tradition and world renowned for academic excellence for over 122 years.

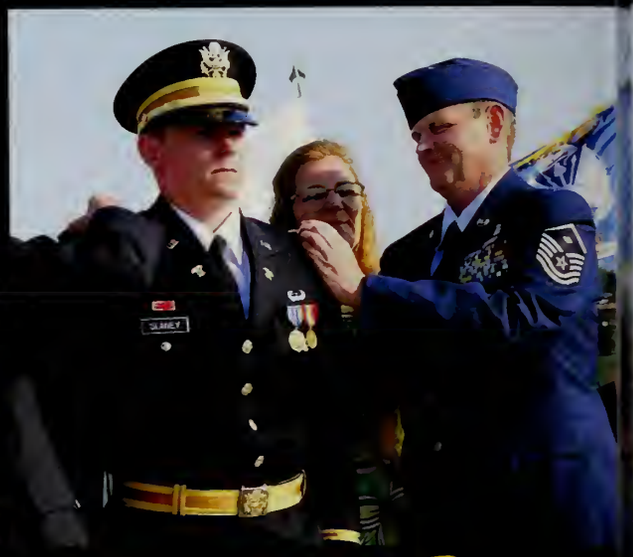
We commend you for your steadfast commitment and immeasurable achievements over the past four years. You have so much to be proud of as you have exceeded your goals and all of our expectations and dreams! You have matured into a well-rounded young man with so many great attributes. The windows of opportunity ahead are limitless as you embark on your next mission in life. Stay the course and follow your dreams.

Congratulations and best of luck!
We Love You,
Mom, Dad, Lauren, Brendan & Kevin.

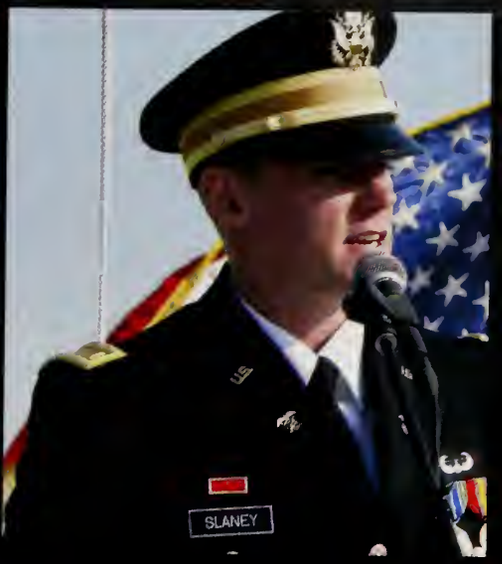
CHRISTOPHER JUDGE

Christopher,
We are so proud of your accomplishments. Your voyage has just begun, we wish for you calm seas on route to prosperity and happiness.

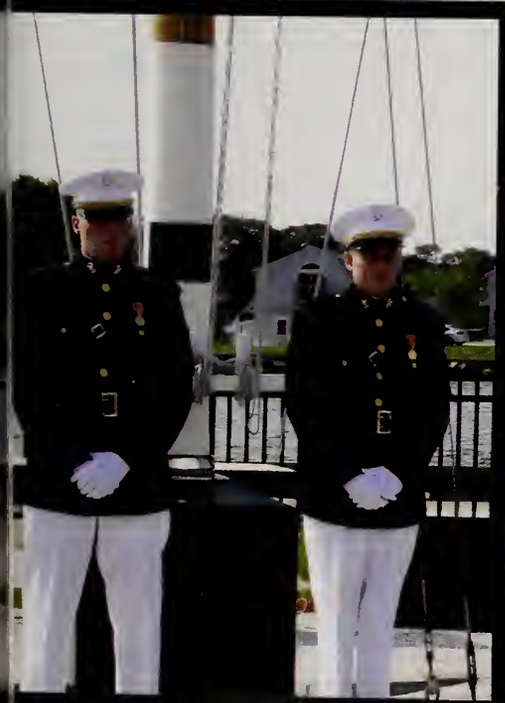
Love,
Mom, Dad and Eric

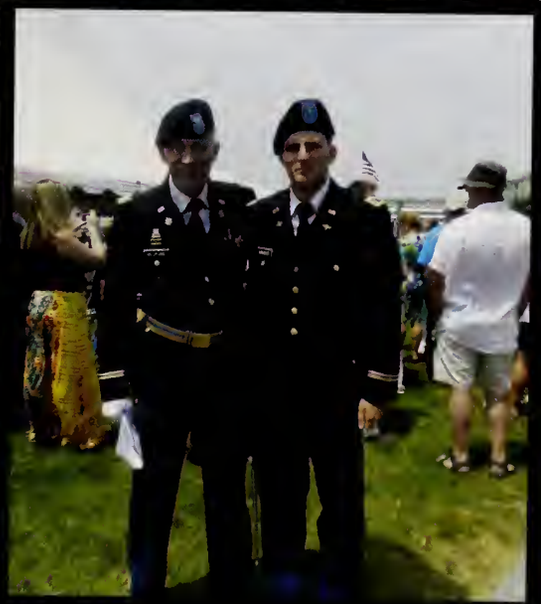


CLASS OF 2013



COMMISSIONING





CLASS OF 2013

"The fog's just lifting. Throw off your bow line, throw off your stern. You head out south of the Cape Cod Canal, past Falmouth, and past Woods Hole where I took the ferry as a kid. Blow your airhorn and throw a wave to the lighthouse keeper on Martha's Vineyard. The birds show up -- black backs, herring gulls, big dumb ducks. The sun hits ya, head north, open up to 12, steamin' now. The guys are busy, you're in charge. Ya' know what? You're a sailor now! Is there anything better in the world?"
